FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Rona Consulting Group Announces the RCG Blog

Mercer Island, WA — June 14, 2013 — As part of our commitment to help healthcare leaders become lean executives and transform their organizations, we are launching a new user-friendly blog series. In these blogs you'll be hearing the perspectives of RCG's expert consultants on the social and technical sides of lean transformation in healthcare.

We'll be reaching out to support you—the clinicians, healthcare executives, and staff at the front lines of exploring lean applications in healthcare—bringing you commentary, ideas, experience, and advice to facilitate your journey. You can search the by author or topic, or just browse the latest entries for new ideas.

The link to the blog can be made from the RCG website:
