

Innovative Leaders Speaker Series
UC Berkeley School of Public Health, Center for Health Leadership

A Public Health Application of 'A3' Lean Management Principles with Dr. Tom Jackson

REGISTER NOW!

<http://www.regonline.com/a3lean>

Thursday, June 6, 2013
1:00 - 5:00pm

UC Berkeley Alumni House - Toll Room

Join Dr. Tom Jackson in this performance improvement workshop that explores the effective Lean Management tool in a public health application — other industries are welcome to attend! In healthcare, the A3 Lean Management Tool can play a pivotal role in addressing the pressing problems of high cost and poor quality.

We encourage teams to participate in this interactive workshop; a team is 6-8 co-workers.

Agenda:

1:00pm - 1:30pm: Registration / Material Distribution / Work-group Formation

1:30pm - 4:30pm: Dr. Tom Jackson

4:30pm - 5:00pm: Group Discussions/Networking with Light Refreshments

Cost:

Early bird special: $45/pp if registered by May 5th.

After May 5th, admission fee is $65/pp.

Current UC Berkeley Students, Faculty, and Staff: $45 per person through June 1st.
Questions? Please email sph\_chl@berkeley.edu.

For more information about the A3 Lean Management Tool, please visit:
<http://tinyurl.com/a3leanInfo>.

Currently a partner at Rona Consulting Group, Tom Jackson has more than 21 years of experience in consulting for global companies in a very wide variety of manufacturing and service industries that implement the Toyota Management System. He designed major lean certification programs for Ford, Whirlpool, Emerson, adidas, Air Products and Chemicals, and the Ohio State University. Tom's book, Hoshin Kanri for the Lean Enterprise, was honored with a Shingo Prize for Excellence in Research. Tom is the Editor of the Lean Tools for Healthcare series from Productivity Press.

